Pam,

Thank you so much for your time and energy at the Kelley Honors Leadership Retreat on Saturday, August 29th. You were an integral part of making that day informative and special for our Honors students. Our faculty director Peggy Daniels Lee, the students on the Kelley Honors Program Advisory Board, and I all worked very hard to put that day together, and your Sound Collaboration activity made it such an outstanding success!

I asked some of those at the retreat to write a short thank you to our speakers, and I have compiled your responses below:

- Pam Hinkle, Your session on sound collaboration was my favorite part of the retreat! I really admire the way you were able to get all of us out of our comfort zones and participating. You allowed us to become more comfortable with trying new things and making mistakes.
- Pam Hinkle, You were an excellent speaker! I enjoyed how you used your creative skills to really engage with the audience. You taught a valuable lesson that I hope to help teach others.
- I would personally like to thank Pam Hinkle for her especially engaging lecture. I have a musical background, so I appreciate how she led the lecture. Her lecture was one of the most interactive lectures I have ever participated in. Thank you for your time and your wonderful spirit!
- I would really like to thank Pam Hinkle for brightening up the day and making her session fun. She showed me that it's okay and fun to be outgoing even in a more serious setting. Also that it only takes one person to get other people to chime in and have fun.
- Pam Hinkle: I thought she did a good job of being interactive with the students. It was fun and a good way to make us more energetic in the morning. Also she helped convey how important listening to others is in a unique way.

- Pam Hinkle's presentation was awesome! I love getting to do collaborative things like the harmony. I'm glad she came!!
- I feel that Pam Hinkle was the most inspiring of all of the speakers. She made me get out of my comfort zone and feel more comfortable with myself.
- I cannot thank you enough Pam for teaching us what collaboration is all about. When people think about collaboration, people usually don't associate it with sounds, but it's something that is so true.
- I would like to thank Pam Hinkle: your workshop was so unique and invigorating. I used to be on a dance team in high school and it brought back strong memories of that. I felt so comfortable and happy and it set me off to a great beginning of the day. Keep on being you and rocking it!!
- Pam Hinkle's profession would seemingly not be related to business. It was very interesting to see how one industry can have an impact on another.
- I wanted to thank Pam Hinkle. Her presentation was very inspirational and interactive. Teamwork is a big focus in the Kelley School of Business, and I thought her seminar was a wonderful way to emphasize collaboration.

I hope these responses serve to fully convey our appreciation. Again, thank you!

Sincerely,

Dr. Peggy Daniels Lee, Loren Bumbalough, and the Kelley Honors Program Advisory Board
